The University of the Cordilleras is a non-profit, non-stock private educational institution. A fully integrated academic community, it offers non-sectarian training in several educational levels - graduate, undergraduate, HIGH SCHOOL, GRADE SCHOOL, and PRE-SCHOOL. It is composed of human and physical resources all aimed at achieving professional competence, and providing quality education to everyone who deserves it, regardless of race, economic standing or religion.

The University of the Cordilleras Grade School and High School is located in Lourdes Subdivision / Hamada Road, Campo Filipino, Baguio City.

Its being a non-profit foundation is translation into reality of the school's most fundamental belief - that education should be made accessible to everyone who deserves it.

As a foundation, all of the school's income is plowed back into upgrading its academic workers for continuing improvement of its facilities and financing of relevant educational researches. Also because of this, UC is able to provide its students with quality education at reasonable fee levels.
