

Roster of • New UC Lawyers •

• Atty. Pilipinas D. Baclayen

• Atty. Paul M. Balag-ey

• Atty. Raymundo B. Bautista Jr.

• Atty. Rodalice P. Cabe

• Atty. Adryan B. Chaguile

• Atty. Robelita B. Diaz

• Atty. Sheba dela Cruz-Javier

• Atty. Dennis G. Libunao

• Atty. Julie G. Lloren

• Atty. Grace Maguiwet-Faustino

• Atty. Keith Andrew G. Musico

• Atty. Maurice C. Nabunat Jr.

• Atty. Emma F. Quinto

• Atty. Alma Jean Ganayo L. Roux

• Atty. Antoniette K. Sumcad

• Atty. Rafael G. Yango

At the cusp of distinction

Lawyers are a distinct breed. They have flair, erudition, boldness, pride, courage, and honor: attributes that distinguish their profession from others. Then we wonder what it is that attracts some of us to join the legal profession.

Glamour? Prestige? Fame?

Hardly, if we think that other equally noble professions can very well respond to these qualities. Setting these aside, there must be some deeper motivation to it, and we believe that this is drawn from our fundamental humanity. A sense of fairness satisfies a basic need. If so, then lawyers exist to become guardians of justice, a human need as essential as food, shelter or clothing.

Imagine this. If the University of the Cordilleras is guided by a core value of giving back, its lawyers are being asked to do more. This is so because justice, according to the American philosopher John Rawls, is more fundamental than benevolence, charity, mercy, generosity or compassion. No wonder lawyers need to be erudite, bold, proud, courageous and honorable. A flair for these is necessary in the fight for justice and fairness: a vital element that makes us human.

Today, the bar of excellence has been raised for UC's new lawyers. Having been admitted to the legal profession, they are at the cusp of distinction. What they do from now on will spell the difference between obscurity and greatness.

UC Announcements

Schedule of Enrolment

• Summer 2011 •

College of Nursing

April 1	3rd Year
April 2	2nd Year
April 4	1st Year
April 5	Transferees/ Shifters/Returnees
April 6	Adding/ Changing of Subjects

College of Law

April 1 - April 6

Start of Classes : April 7, 2011

Exams Conducted : September 5, 12, 19 & 26, 2010 | Results Released : March 17, 2011

• Our National Ranking •

UC

• Our Grassroots Initiatives •

• Our Exceptional Attainments •

• 2011 •
• 64th School Year •

• Our Global Affiliations •