

UC number one in passing rate for the 21st consecutive exam

90% passing rate; 91 of 101 examinees

UNPRECEDENTED, UNSURPASSED AND UNMATCHED is this feat that makes other Higher Educational Institutions in the country look up to the University of the Cordilleras after being recognized as the nation's number one in Criminology licensure examinations for the 21st consecutive time. With 91 out of 101 of its examinees emerging victorious, UC yielded a passing rate of 91%, way over the national passing rate of only 35.20% in the exams held last May 5, 6 and 7 this year.

Five UC graduates also made it to the top ten. Darwin Cabot Porin, Laurence Casil Lagmay, Javier Forayang Gumiyao, Bernardo Badiwes Osting and Juliet Gasatan Kaniteng garnered 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th place, respectively. Kaniteng, who will be graduating Magna Cum Laude on May 18, 2007, also placed 11th in the 2006 NAPOLCOM exams.

Dr. Benjamin Mang-usan, Dean of the College of Criminal Justice Education said that apart from being number one, UC Criminology examinees have been consistently improving their percentage passing rate and the college hopes to beat their own record of an all-time high 98% passing rate set in March 2002.

But passing the licensure examination is not the end all and be all of UC's Criminology education. "We produce graduates who have the knowledge and skills in addressing the problem of criminality in the country and the competence to meet the challenge of globalization in the field of Criminology", the dean said.

"We obliged ourselves to provide the community with professionally competent and morally upright graduates who can deliver efficient and effective services in crime prevention, crime detection and investigation, law enforcement, and custody and rehabilitation of offenders" added Dr. Mang-usan, who also sits as the Co-Chair for the Commission on Higher Education's technical Panel for Criminal Justice Education.

UC College of Criminal Justice Education (UC-CCJE) has become a buzz word, reverberating among all other schools offering Criminology. Things are looking even brighter for UC-CCJE now that it has earned the honor of being the first and only institution to apply for the offering of Master of Science in Criminal Justice Education with Specialization in Criminology.

The UC College of Criminal Justice Education produced its first batch of successful examinees in the Licensure Examination in 1990 led by its first and concurrent dean, Dr. Mang-usan and his team of competent and committed practicing and full time professors. Since then, graduates of the College manage to take the top ten or top twenty places in the board examination. It has then consistently topped the board examinations with a passing percentage way above the national passing rate. For its consistent exemplary and excellent performance, the College of Criminology is recognized as the "Best Criminology School in the Country".
